

The following information is available as a public service subject to the following terms and conditions:

- All rights, title and interest (including copyright, patent and other intellectual property rights) contained in the Information remain vested in the Cariboo Regional District at all times.
- The Cariboo Regional District does not warrant or guarantee the accuracy or completeness of the Information. Ongoing updates and utility connections may not be incorporated into the Information available on the Cariboo Regional District website. Users are urged to verify the accuracy of the information against copies of actual plans.
- If there is a conflict between the Information on the web page and information contained in any other records of the Cariboo Regional District or documents that may be prepared by or delivered to the Cariboo Regional District, the Cariboo Regional District reserves the right to rely in all cases upon the record which it considers to be the most accurate and complete.

All zoning should be confirmed with the Planning Department at the Cariboo Regional District.

building communities together