‘Funny Business’ with the CRD’s Summer Reading Clubs

Cariboo Chilcotin - The Cariboo Regional District Libraries in 100 Mile House, Quesnel, and Williams Lake invite children of all ages to join this year’s BC Summer Reading Club: Funny Business. The program starts in July. Registration is free and is now open.

Once registered, members will receive a special kit to keep track of their reading over the summer months. If they achieve their summer reading goal, they will be awarded a collectible medal.

The program is designed to motivate children to read regularly (or be read to), to help maintain or improve reading skills while school is out. It makes reading fun, by inviting kids to read what they want. The Cariboo Regional District Library staff can help kids find suitable materials, whether it’s a print book, audiobook, e-book, magazine or any combination of items.

Contact your local Summer Reading Club Program Coordinator for further details or visit us online at cln.bc.ca for all current library service program offerings.
